

Castleton Free Library.....we cultivate dreams

There's a lot to keep you dreaming at the library this summer:

Start your summer on Thu. 6/21 with Storyteller Simon Brooks who will spin tales to help us celebrate the summer solstice.

Simon is an award-winning professional storyteller who grew up in England. His stories are rooted in European folk and Faerie lore. 7:00 p.m.

After his program, we'll register students who want to participate in other Dream Big Summer Reading activities.

What else is in store for you?

- * dreamcatchers to keep you sleeping sweetly/suncatchers to catch your daydreams
- * things that go bump in the night, and bats that avoid bumps
- * fairy houses (or Faerie if you're from the U.K.) & gnomes
- * stars and lightning bugs and other nocturnal glitter
- * a walk in the evening, or maybe a hunt & fire
- * a book club & books about everything
- * occasional food
- * Mr. Marr

Programs continue on Thursdays at 7:00 p.m. Free and open to all.

For more information call Jan @ 468-5574, visit castletonfreelibrary.org, or find us on Facebook. A full July schedule will be available at registration.
